EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

Staff has prepared for Council consideration legislation setting a public hearing for May 19, 2014, for the construction of audible pedestrian signals at the intersection of College Avenue and Broadway Boulevard. The total project cost estimate is $70,000, and funding is from 0.25% Capital Improvement Sales Tax. An Interested Parties (IP) meeting was held January 22, 2014.

The signals will also include countdown timers similar to other intersections around Columbia. College Avenue (Route 763) is a MoDOT roadway, and these improvements will be coordinated with MoDOT. An IP meeting was held on January 22, 2014 with thirteen (13) people signed in, and two (2) comments were received (attached).

Comments:

We support the installation of pedestrian control heads for the traffic lights at this very important intersection to Stephens College campus and downtown Columbia. The installed planting beds &ADA ramps are not holding up to HGV traffic. We hope the project includes the replacement of these components to accommodate for HGV turning loads. We hope the design includes a significant base and reinforced concrete slab profile to prevent future fracturing. We would also hope that if the city installs bollards that they are aesthetically pleasing and fit with the wrought iron fence of Stephens College.
